

Jon Kasling

Managing Principal

Mr. Kasling is the Managing Principal of KPG Commercial, where he leads the firm's strategic direction and oversees all aspects of its real estate operations. Since joining the firm in 2009, he has played an integral role in the acquisition, development, and management of numerous commercial real estate projects throughout Austin and the surrounding markets. His expertise spans investment strategy, asset management, and deal structuring, ensuring KPG Commercial remains a leader in the region's dynamic real estate landscape.

Beyond his role at KPG Commercial, Mr. Kasling serves on the Board of Directors of First National Bank of Hughes Springs, where he is actively involved in the bank's strategic acquisitions, real estate management, and upper-level management. His contributions help shape the institution's growth and long-term financial stability.
